Workshop is Limited to 12 Artists

Arrival: We encourage you to arrive by 5pm on the Sunday before your class begins. We will meet informally in the studio for wine and cheese that evening. This allows us to get acquainted and answer questions, giving students a better start to the workshop.

Weather: The weather is impossible to predict, but students should expect that they will be painting outdoors, possibly in very cool or wet weather. In the case of heavy rain, we will meet and paint in the studio or visit the Farnsworth Museum and Wyeth Center.

Lodging: We will offer lodging suggestions and have arranged a discounted rate at a local motel. Students are responsible for making reservations and paying for their own lodging. Keep in mind that the Workshop takes place during the local foliage season -- tourist season in mid-coast Maine. The sooner you reserve, the better.

Cancellation policy: If you need to cancel, please do so in writing as soon as possible. The $200 deposit will be retained, but you will not be responsible for the balance due. The $1,000 balance is due on August 17. If you cancel AFTER you have paid the balance, we will try to fill the space and return your $1,000. However, if we are unable to fill your space, the full workshop payment will be retained.
